BLACK's explanation to SAs WILLIAM B. WELTE, JR. and ROBERT W. HOLMES, July 11, 1950:

This book was used by BLACK to maintain a record of expenses for the year 1948 which he incurred in connection with his business for the Spruce Chemical Company. These expenses were deducted on his income tax return as business expenses. The items are set out under the date under which they appear in the book.

On the page titled "Frequently Used Addresses," etc., FRED HELLER's name appears and the address of the hotel in Mariemont, Ohio, which HELLER used as his headquarters when travelling in the Middlewest for American Chemical Paint Co.

SANFORD is a personal friend and former NOPCO employee now working for Fish and Wild Life Service, Seattle, Washington.

The Scientific Glass Apparatus Co. was a firm from which BLACK purchased laboratory equipment and WILLIAM GEIER, SR. is a salesman with that firm.

Jan. 4 - BLACK saw NICHOLAS MOLNAR of Fine Organics and spent $12.75 for travel.

Feb. 9 - A memorandum to call NICHOLAS MOLNAR.

Feb. 27 - A reminder to call Scientific Glass Apparatus Co.

Mar. 12 - A similar reminder including the name of the salesman.

May 11 - A reminder to call PAUL A. DITTMAN, a customer of Spruce Chemical.

May 27 - A notation regarding work done at the Royal Typewriter Co. in Philadelphia to change the keyboard on his typewriter, which is now at Spruce Chemical Co.

A notation in the book "3 - 2 = 1" was a reminder to BLACK of a quarrel he had with FASS and BLACK's resulting threat to withdraw from the Spruce Chemical Co. The exact significance of the notation is that three partners, minus one partner (BLACK), would leave two partners. The quarrel was settled without BLACK's withdrawal.

July 26 - On this date BLACK went to Middleport, New York, with JOSEPH MULLEN, the third partner in Spruce Chemical, to call on the Newport Mills in connection with Spruce Chemical business.

Throughout the book the following persons are identified by the initials indicated:

NICK - NICHOLAS MOLNAR

J.I.F. - JACK PASS

E.S. - ERNEST SEGESSEMAN

E.G. - EMIL GREINER, a manufacturer of scientific glass apparatus in New York City

The 1950 Philadelphia telephone directory contains a listing to JAMES E. BROWN at this address with that telephone number.

The files of this office contain no information on persons named JAMES E. BROWN, and persons named JAMES E. BROWN with middle names beginning with E, that are identifiable with this person. There are numerous cards in the Index on persons named JAMES BROWN, all of which contain some identifying information on the particular JAMES BROWN referred to. These index cards were reviewed, and none of these cards indicated any of these persons residing at 1813 West Ontario Street. It is suggested that further identifying information on this person be obtained, and that this name be rechecked through the office Index.

BLACK's explanation to SAs WILLIAM B. WELTE, JR. and ROBERT W. HOLMES, July 12, 1950:

The envelope in which this material was contained was received by BLACK from the United States Patent Office and contained patents which BLACK had ordered in connection with his work at Berg and Spruce Chemical. Numerous patents were in the envelope.

Telephone numbers on the envelope were the business and home phones of JAMES E. BROWN, an employee of the Yellow Cab Truck Rental Service. BLACK hired trucks from this service to transfer Spruce Chemical equipment from Philadelphia to Paterson, when the company moved in the spring of 1950. On two occasions BROWN drove the truck.

Also contained in the envelope were three manila folders which contained numerous clippings. These folders were labeled as follows:

1. OPD - Clippings from Oil, Paint and Drug Reporter
2. CEN - Chemical Engineering News
3. NED - New Equipment Digest

These are trade publications and the clippings were cut out by BLACK, and placed in the folders preparatory to filing them more carefully for reference. They contained information regarding laboratory equipment, chemical processes, plant equipment, etc., to which BLACK may have wished to refer.

Six patents in a paper bag labeled GENE SMALLEY were loaned by BLACK to EUGENE SMALLEY, a salesman, and returned by him.

Five yellow file cards contained notes regarding laboratory equipment and some literature references from trade publications.

The envelope also contained a translation of a French patent.

A bill from the Emerson Radio Co. for servicing a radio in 1948, referred to a radio which BLACK had when he lived in the apartment of SARA HERSHER, 2124 Spruce Street. This is believed by BLACK to be the radio which he and HARRY GOLD secured from that apartment on the night in February 1950 when they met at the Broad Street Station. It was on this occasion and while they were walking from the Broad Street Station to 2124 Spruce Street that GOLD told BLACK about his involvement with KLAUS FUCHS and the Soviet espionage system.

In a signed statement from BLACK, concerning that incident, he says that they secured a radio from the person who lived in HERSHER's former apartment at that time and threw it away in a rubbish barrel.

No other material in this envelope had any significance.

BA 9-9820

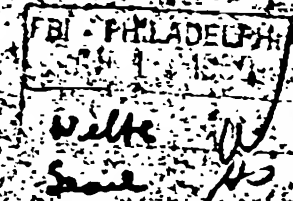

LOcust 7-0806 is listed to the Yellow Cab Company in Philadelphia. Baldwin 9-9820 is listed to JAMES E. BROWN, 1813 West Ontario Street, Philadelphia.

LEADS

Will exhibit this envelope to BLACK for his explanation regarding the telephone number Baldwin 9-9820 and his reason for writing this number. Will question him regarding any possible espionage activities of JAMES E. BROWN or any other connection with this case.

Will interview JAMES E. BROWN at 1813 West Ontario Street, Philadelphia, Pa., for any information he may be able to furnish regarding the activities of BLACK and/or his own activities in connection with this case.

BA 9-9820, listed to JAMES E. BROWN, 1813 West Ontario
Street, Philadelphia

The 1950 Philadelphia telephone directory contains a listing to JAMES E. BROWN at this address with that telephone number.

The files of this office contain no information on persons named JAMES E. BROWN, and persons named JAMES E. BROWN with middle names beginning with E, that are identifiable with this person. There are numerous cards in the Index on persons named JAMES BROWN, all of which contain some identifying information on the particular JAMES BROWN referred to. These index cards were reviewed, and none of these cards indicated any of these persons residing at 1813 West Ontario Street. It is suggested that further identifying information on this person be obtained, and that this name be rechecked through the office Index.

BLACK's explanation to SAs WILLIAM B. WELTE, JR. and ROBERT W. HOLMES, July 12, 1950:

The envelope in which this material was contained was received by BLACK from the United States Patent Office and contained patents which BLACK had ordered in connection with his work at Berg and Spruce Chemical. Numerous patents were in the envelope.

Telephone numbers on the envelope were the business and home phones of JAMES E. BROWN, an employee of the Yellow Cab Truck Rental Service. BLACK hired trucks from this service to transfer Spruce Chemical equipment from Philadelphia to Paterson, when the company moved in the spring of 1950. On two occasions BROWN drove the truck.

Also contained in the envelope were three manila folders which contained numerous clippings. These folders were labeled as follows:

1. OPD - Clippings from Oil, Paint and Drug Reporter
2. CEN - Chemical Engineering News
3. NED - New Equipment Digest

These are trade publications and the clippings were cut out by BLACK, and placed in the folders preparatory to filing them more carefully for reference. They contained information regarding laboratory equipment, chemical processes, plant equipment, etc., to which BLACK may have wished to refer.

Six patents in a paper bag labeled GENE SMALLEY were loaned by BLACK to EUGENE SMALLEY, a salesman, and returned by him.

Five yellow file cards contained notes regarding laboratory equipment and some literature references from trade publications.

The envelope also contained a translation of a French patent.

A bill from the Emerson Radio Co. for servicing a radio in 1948, referred to a radio which BLACK had when he lived in the apartment of SARA HERSHER, 2124 Spruce Street. This is believed by BLACK to be the radio which he and HARRY GOLD secured from that apartment on the night in February 1950 when they met at the Broad Street Station. It was on this occasion and while they were walking from the Broad Street Station to 2124 Spruce Street that GOLD told BLACK about his involvement with KLAUS FUCHS and the Soviet espionage system.

In a signed statement from BLACK, concerning that incident, he says that they secured a radio from the person who lived in HERSHER's former apartment at that time and threw it away in a rubbish barrel.

No other material in this envelope had any significance.

BLACK's explanation to SAs WILLIAM B. WELTE, JR. and ROBERT W. HOLMES,
July 11, 1950:

This 1943 appointment book is used by BLACK for various memoranda. The individuals therein were identified as follows and for purposes of clarity are set out below under the date under which they appear in the book:

Jan. 1 - The names, addresses and positions of the members of local Selective Service Board No. 33, Newark, New Jersey, where BLACK is registered. These were set down as a matter of convenience in BLACK's contacts with the Board during the war. He also had to give this information to NOPCO, where he was employed at the time.

BLACK said he had various classifications during the war, the only one of which he remembered was 1-B. On at least one occasion he passed a preliminary physical examination but was never examined by the Army.

July 1 - A formula for an aluminum coating given him by FRED HELLER, which HELLER and BLACK planned to use if they went into business together. The formula was secured by HELLER from the American Chemical Paint Co. and was never furnished to the Soviets.

Jan. 2 - CHARLES BENDER was, in 1943, a fellow employee at NOPCO who was interested in the production of penicillin. At that time very little literature on the subject of penicillin was available and BLACK received from BENDER a number of references to look up.

Jan. 10 - Amounts of money owed by BLACK to various people. Dr. SILVERSTEIN was his dentist, and JACK ROSNER was a friend of his who was a member of the SWP.

Jan. 3 - The military address of FRANK DZIEDZIC, a fellow employee at NOPCO who has been previously identified.

Jan. 4 - SOROKA was a former member of the YPSL in Newark who went to Rochester, New York, possibly to work for Eastman Kodak. This is his Rochester address.

Mrs. LOIS BLACK is THOMAS BLACK's step-mother.

SOL MILROAD was an attorney recommended to BLACK in connection with his business but never seen by him.

ROBINSON was BLACK's superior at NOPCO and MORSCH a fellow employee.

Jan. 4 - Notations regarding pictures are reminders to BLACK to get cont'd copies of their identification photographs made for them.

FREEFIELD has been previously identified as BLACK's roommate in Newark and this is his military address.

Jan. 6 - A memorandum to have ERNEST SEGESSEMAN write to three companies for information on sorbose, a chemical sugar. This had no connection with the reports on the production of sorbose which he gave Soviets.

Jan. 8 - FENICHEL was a friend of MAX FREEFIELD, brother of CHARLES. This is his military address.

Mrs. RETTEN was the wife of BLACK's former assistant at NOPCO.

WISWELL is FRED HELLER's former wife.

DALALIAN was a classmate of BLACK at Pennsylvania State College.

May 26 - This entry is in the handwriting of JACK FASS, BLACK's associate at Spruce Chemical and BLACK does not know the significance of the entry. JOHN DOWNING, referred to in the entry was a NOPCO employee who left to take a job with the Cresta Blanca Winery in California.

Item No. in BLACK Search Memo of SA GALLIVAN 6/15/50:

66

Description:

One empty Camel cigarette package containing the blue pencil notation,
"G. Brill, 516 May 13".

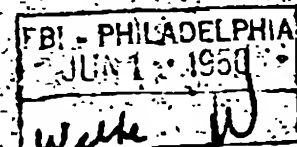

Lead:

Will exhibit this package to BLACK for his explanation regarding the reason for this notation and the identity of G. BRILL.

Will determine if BRILL is connected with espionage activities in this case.

After identifying, will consider the advisability of contacting BRILL for additional information regarding BLACK.

BLACK's explanation to SAs WILLIAM B. WELTE, JR. and ROBERT W. HOLMES,
July 11, 1950:

The cigarette package was used to make a notation in the absence of available paper. BLACK does not recall its significance but points out that in the Dewey Decimal System of library classification 500 is the science classification and, therefore, the number 516 would refer to some specialized branch of science. BLACK therefore believes it to be a note he made in the library.
